

Talent Alliance, Inc. Announces Additions to Job Seeker Resource Center

Austin, TX – June 29, 2009 – Talent Alliance, Inc. (www.talentallianceintl.com) announced today the addition of several innovative resources, including an interactive interview preparation guide, now available to job seekers on its MilitaryJobZone career center (www.militaryjobzone.com). MilitaryJobZone matches companies with top transitioning and recently separated military personnel seeking employment in the civilian sector.

“Our proprietary Interview Preparation Course is the most valuable tool a transitioning military member can add to their arsenal,” said Brian Davis, CEO of Talent Alliance. “In today’s market, even if you are the most qualified candidate and possess the right background and career path for a particular opportunity, you may still lose if your interviewing skills are not sharp. Our training teaches job seekers what to expect from interviewers and how to properly answer questions using our proven SOAR method.”

Talent Alliance has made its Interview Preparation Course available to job seekers at no charge for a limited time through its MilitaryJobZone career center and also through its Soar Consulting contingency placement division (www.soarcareers.com).

Other resources found on the site include suggested reading for transitioning military members, links to salary calculators, information on specific documentation needed for military personnel, continued education opportunities, a resume guide with samples, links to local career fairs, and resume distribution services.
